Study Intercultural Competence in the Heart of Europe

Why Intercultural Competence?

In the 21st century an increasingly globalized environment requires intercultural competence to build successful synergies and strategies for the global workplace. Accelerate your career by acquiring key skills and relevant experience necessary for achieving your professional goals.

The Intercultural College of the Paris-Lodron University of Salzburg combines state-of-the-art research and solution finding with academic programs tailored to educate future intercultural experts.

The Intercultural College is collaborating with Salzburg College, an institution specialized in international education programs, to offer you a superior academic and cultural experience at the crossroads of Europe.

Program offerings

The following two programmes are offered at the Paris-Lodron University of Salzburg:
