

[calling all feminists : open call]

kunst trotz gewalt

The Women's Emergency Helpline Salzburg in cooperation with gendup - Centre for Gender Studies and Advancement of Women and FOTOHOF Salzburg are participating in this year's international campaign of 16 days of activism against gender based violence with a public screening. For the Public Space Projection captioned art defies violence

we are calling all artists, creatives and authors - may they be survivors* or acting in solidarity - to work on and with the theme of violence against women*, girls, lesbians, inter*persons, non-binary persons, trans*persons, asexual/agender+

Violence in all its variations, be they sexual, physical or psychological violence. Violence against women* as permanently acute, as a systematic and structural constant in society as a whole, contextualised in social, political, economical and cultural asymmetries, patriarchal paradigms and gender dynamics, in racism and its continuity, in economical inequality, dubitable privileges as well as the interdependencies of all these factors. It is our premise, and self-evidently so, that we intend to bring the hegemonic *white cultural establishment closer to societal reality by prominently positioning topic- related relevant artworks and perspectives particularly from the BIPOC³ and LGBTQIA+⁴ community.

We want to see more „....than half the picture“ this time: We explicitly call on all people, regardless of the ‚professionalism‘ of their artistic practice, the nature of their knowledge, their expertise or their educational background, to submit their work.

Submitted artwork will be reviewed and selected by a panel of experts and - as far as the current covid measurements allow - presented in an Open Air Viewing on 25.11.2021 at FOTOHOF Salzburg. Synchronously the works will be presented online over the following 16 days of the campaign in a virtual art space generated by ‚gendup‘.

Personal data, disclosed with the submission of artwork, will be anonymized on demand.

[Submission criteria]

- Media art, photographs, shortfilm.
 - digital images of paintings and art preferably in landscape format.
 - Texts in regular formats or as audio recordings.
 - Performance arts - Please submit a short description or video. Both live staging or screening possible.
- in good quality via email or WeTransfer.
