

1. Appendix

1.1. Inner title page

TITLE OF THE MASTER'S THESIS

Master's thesis in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of

"Master of Science"

Author: First name Last Name

Submitted to the Joint Master Programme on Human-Computer Interaction
Salzburg University of Applied Sciences
Paris-Lodron-University Salzburg

Assessed by:

Title First name Surname (supervisor)

Title First name Surname (second assessor)¹

Place, date of submission

¹ if thesis submitted at Salzburg University of Applied Sciences

IMPORTANT: Please do not use any university logo or seal in your thesis and use a hard bound cover for the master thesis!

Page division	A4 format; top margin 2.5 cm; bottom margin 2.5 cm; left margin 2.5 cm; right margin 2.5 cm; gutter 0.5 cm
Page numbering	Top right, starting with 1 on the page following the title page
Line spacing	Generally 1.5 lines; exception: single spacing for literature references and programme text
Alignment	Ordinary paragraphs justified; everything else (lists, references, etc.) ragged
Header	Distance from top: 1.5 cm; section on the left, page number on the right
Footnotes	Superscript numbers in the text; footnote at the bottom of the page on which the reference is given; text must remain comprehensible even without the footnote; also used for product information (software, hardware)
Font	Arial, font size 12pt or Calibri, font size 12pt Main chapter headings in bold and font size 16pt Level 2 chapter headings in bold and font size 14pt Chapter headings at level 3 and any lower levels in bold and font size 12pt Programme segments in Courier New, 10pt; use tabs for indentations; it is recommended to indicate line numbers Emphasis is provided using italics and, in very rare cases, boldface; underlining is not allowed Footnotes, figure captions and table captions in font size 10pt
Spacing	There should be 6pt spacing between a heading and the text below. There should be 12pt spacing between a heading and a sub-heading (each heading should have more spacing from the preceding heading or text than from the following text or heading, so that there is also a visual connection with what follows) The first entry of an enumeration (e.g. bullet list) has 6pt additional spacing from the preceding text; the last entry of an enumeration has 6pt additional spacing from the following text; entries in between have normal line spacing
Illustrations and tables	Every image that is not self-made has a source reference Every table with external data has a source The text must be readable and comprehensible without illustrations Every figure or table must be referenced from within the text
Formulas	Formulas are to be consecutively numbered for each section separately with the number right-justified so that it can be referenced later in the work

Direct quotations (= verbatim adoption of a passage from a source)	Less than 3 lines: mark as quotation by inverted commas; cite source with page(s). More than 3 lines: indent with single line spacing and text in italics; cite source with page(s)
Indirect quotations (= giving the sense, non-verbatim adoption of a passage from a source)	To be identified at the end of the relevant paragraph before the full stop by citing the source without indicating page numbers

Table 15 Rules for layout of a Master's thesis