

Meet our Alumni – Audrey Plimpton

Which career steps have you taken since graduating from EUS?

I have been working at the Salzburg Global Seminar as a Communications Associate. In this role, I produce written content about our nonprofit organisation's work convening global change-makers here in Salzburg.

How did the EUS Master influence your professional career?

My EUS Master's degree influenced my professional career by exposing me to diverse perspectives as well as to many new topics. By sitting in classrooms with interesting peers and experienced professors from across the world, I was able to gain not only factual knowledge about the EU but also the skills to work with others across cultures and languages.

Which aspects of our interdisciplinary programme did you like most?

I particularly enjoyed the opportunity to learn broadly about a variety of topics relating to EU law, politics, and economics. I found it very useful in gaining a more comprehensive understanding of the EU.

What advice can you give future EUS alumni?

Seize the opportunities available to you through this Master's programme. I was grateful to participate in a Double Degree program with LUISS in Rome, and the dual experience of studying in both Salzburg and Rome was very enriching both academically and personally.
